

Pa

Faint, illegible handwriting in cursive script covering most of the page. The text is very light and difficult to read, appearing to be bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. There are several lines of text, but the characters are too faded to transcribe accurately.

